City and Suburban.

AURORA BOREALIS.—Monday night the "Northern Lights" were very beautiful.

PERSONAL.—S. D. Harris, Traveling Editor of the Rural New Yorker, one of the best of agricultural periodicals is in the city, the guest of his son, A. L. Harris.

FAIR ITEMS.—The Tournament will come off Friday, and promises to be a very entertaining contest.

The trial of gins will be unusually thorough.

MOORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY. Attention is specially directed to the advertisement of the above institution. Visitors would do well to pay it a visit while in the city.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE FAIR.—The railroad trains leave the Union Passenger Depot every half hour.

A gateway is to be found at the nearest corner of the Fair Grounds.

Within the railroad enclosure, the gate near Machinery Hall will be open, so that visitors can readily visit this important Department of Tools and Implements.

A single ticket, for the round trip, by rail, costs 25 cents at the depot or on the grounds, including one admission, 75 cents.

The Clark county Fair was a success, says the Athens Watchman.

Stewart county is to have a Democratic rousement on the 23d.

In Richmond county at the late election C. G. Cain got 1,580 of the negro vote and Claiborne Sneed 94.

The residence of J. T. Cox, near Augusta, burned. It was the work of an incendiary, who intended murder.

The steamship Darien will arrive at Savannah in a few days with one hundred Swedes. These people have been secured as laborers for farmers in Bibb and adjoining counties.

The Savannah Advertiser has a bran spank new suit of clothes. It has a brevier beaver of the tallest stove-pipe order, a shiny nonpariel broadcloth breeches and coat, a fancy cape vest, etc.

Green R. Duke, representative elect from Jackson county, writes to the Athens Watchman, says he got a majority of the colored votes and white votes, and denies being in any way a Radical.

Savannah had a grand glorification meeting for Greeley on Monday night. The crowd was large. The Chatham Artillery fired guns. Fire works were let off in profusion. Major Henry Bryan, Hon. Julian Hartridge, Dr. R. D. Arnold, Howard Lamotte, and Geo. C. Black, spoke.

SENOIA.—A visit to this flourishing village the other day, reveals the fact that great improvements have been made within the last year. Nearly fifty dwellings have been erected, the most of which have been of superior character, some indeed are quite elegant.—Griffin Star.

The orderly and sober crowds of colored people that thronged the streets of Talbotton on election day, deserve to be remembered by the white citizens of this county. Take away the carpet-bagger, and the negro becomes as orderly and peaceful an element in the body politic as one would wish to see. Talbotton Standard.

The Albany News has this crop item: We are constrained to make the sad announcement that the cotton yield in this section is falling below a half crop. We have conversed with many planters, and the concurrent testimony fixes the crop from a third to a half yield. The picking is progressing rapidly, and receipts for this and next month will probably be heavier than usual, but after that the falling off will be fearful.

TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.—Fort Valley had a big torchlight procession last Friday night in honor of the Democratic victory. The whole town turned out and a good many came from abroad. Messers. Samuel Hall, Sidney Lewis, W. C. Winslow and B. M. Bateman made speeches, which were received with great demonstrations of applause. Great enthusiasm, good feeling and harmony prevailed.—Houston Journal.

ENTOMOLOGIST.—We have already announced that, under no circumstances, would we be drawn into the mosquito controversy that is now raging between the editors of Macon and Atlanta. The insects in each city are very forcible, and it is a practice among the doctors in both places, when their patients need bleeding, to take down the wire net and call in a mosquito. The advantage in this is that the insects have regular gauges on their bodies, and a physician can draw off a quart or a gallon of blood, as the exigency of the case may demand.—Savannah News.

We learn from reliable gentlemen that certain voters in the 19th district of this county, who had always voted the Democratic ticket and who intended to do it in the last election were prevented from doing so by the threats of certain Radical colored voters who had formed a league in that district. These poor creatures voted the ticket they really wished not to vote simply through fear of being beaten and otherwise maltreated by others of their own race. What is a colored man's vote worth when he cannot vote as he pleases?—Lumpkin Independent.

The Savannah Advertiser tells of two petticoats that drove out to Bonaventure. In turning their buggy this occurred:

This they attempted to do, but unfortunately the turn was too short, when over went ribbons, bonnets, linens, and "sich," in promiscuous confusion. And they do say that high-heeled gaiters and other appendages were displayed to the admiring gaze of the male attendant, who took a peculiar delight in this unexpected view of the ordinarily invisible. After feasting his eyes sufficiently —if such a thing be possible—with the assistance of another party, who came shortly after the accident, he righted the buggy, while the ladies walked around apparently unconcerned as if nothing had happened. As soon as everything was put in readiness, they got into the buggy again, and set out for Thunderbolt, each holding the other culpable for the recent accident that had resulted in such and extensive display of dry goods fine hose, etc. Both finally concluded that it was the fault of the naughty horse, whose want of gallantry caused the fall in delicacies and the consequent rise in dry goods. That horse became the recipient of an extra caress or two, which caused him to mend his ways.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Democratic Cause Full of Hope--A Change of Administration Will Bring to Light Amazing Frauds.

The Stolen Election Money.

Illinois and Indiana--Election Incidents--Personal Items.

WASHINGTON, October 14, 1872.

My last letter was written on the day preceding the late elections. Then the prospects for the success of the Liberal movement were bright indeed. Mr. Greeley had returned from his visit to the West and Pennsylvania, and his speeches had everywhere created the greatest enthusiasm. Georgia had strengthened our hopes by her tremendous Democratic majority. The advices from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana were most encouraging. The Star (Administration) of this city conceded the election of Buckalew; Indiana was given up by the Radicals, who also feared the loss of Ohio. The Democrats and Liberals counted confidently on carrying all three States. So matters stood up to the closing of the polls. The early dispatches did not measurably change the situation. The Democrats were still hopeful and the Radicals anxious. But at 10 o'clock it was evident that Pennsylvania and Ohio had gone Republican. This news had a rather discouraging effect on the Democrats and Liberals here. The election of Mr. Hendricks, in Indiana, now an established fact, has afforded comfort. The situation is still bright. Let us turn back a few weeks, when Mr. DeFrees, the Chairman of the Liberal Republican Committee here, declared that Grant could not afford to lose any one of the three great States named, and that if even one was carried by the conservatives the election of Mr. Greeley was assured. This opinion was generally accepted at the time by the opponents of General Grant, as well grounded. That is no reason why we should fold our hands and suffer Grant to obtain a perpetual lease of the White House. On the contrary, the incentive to renewed efforts should be greater. If Grant secures his reelection this year, there will be no difficulty in his retaining the office for life, unless he coming gorged with plunder, and weary of even maintaining a semblance of performing official duties, he should choose to name his successor and retire.

When a change of Administration does take place, and I wish these words to be remembered, there will be frauds brought to light of which it is hardly possible to form an adequate conception. The long list of petty defaulters, whose peculations aggregate a very large amount, will be wholly eclipsed by the wholesale robberies committed under the present regime. Such is the opinion of those who have closely watched the workings of the Government during the past four years. The vast sums expended in North Carolina, Vermont, Maine, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio, could never have been raised by merely assessing office holders. Directly or indirectly they must have come from the public treasury. In Pennsylvania alone, it is estimated that the Grantites expended about two millions of dollars. They bought voters openly and by wholesale, not only in Philadelphia, but all over the State. Money was forthcoming everywhere, and in any amount required. By this means an honest man was defeated, and a corrupt one, the tool of the venal Cameron ring, elected.

It was remarked the other day that Tammany was not overthrown until its books and vouchers were got at; and that it might be impossible to brake up the Washington Tammany, of which Grant is the head, until the refusal to pay some demand upon it (as in the case of the New York Times printing bill against the New York Tammany) might turn a former fast friend into an enemy, and thus lead to an expose of its inner workings. Then the people would rise up and hurl the thieving gang from power. But for the example afforded by the citizens of New York I should almost dispair of any such outburst, even under the strongest provocation. The people of this country appear to have grown quite indifferent, even tolerant of the grossest frauds and corruption. Perhaps when financial ruin stairs them in the face they will bestir themselves, and put honest men in office.

THE ADMINISTRATION FORCES

after a brief rest from their extraordinary efforts of the past month will commence anew their struggle in a day or two; as notwithstanding their jubilations the fact that Indiana and Illinois can be carried for Greeley affords a subject for earnest Radical consideration. The smoke of battle had hardly cleared away before it was evident to them that a great deal must yet be done to acquire ultimate triumph and taking many circumstances into consideration it is very certain that the Radical party is preparing to do its utmost now to prevent defeat.

IN THE WRONG SHOP.

Until very recently the World bureau has been the last office on "Newspaper Row," going toward Pennsylvania Avenue. Now, Gen. Boynton, of the Cincinnati Gazette, is established two doors below. On the night of the election a couple of office-holders dropped into the World office and read the telegrams displayed there under the impression that they were in "truly loyal" quarters. When they had concluded, one said: "Let's go now and see what news the d—n World office has got?" So they walked into the Cincinnati Gazette office, where the tallest kind of Grant dispatches were displayed. I should like to have seen their faces when they discovered their mistake.

ANOTHER ELECTION INCIDENT.

A party of gentlemen were standing before an office on "Newspaper Row" on Tuesday night, when some one announced that a dispatch had been received from John W. Forney conceding the election of Hartranft. A by-stander thereupon called out, "That means Forney will come out for Grant." This remark was received with a decisive shout, and as the party was largely composed of Grant Republicans and office holders, it is a very good index of the estimation in which Forney is held after all his shuffling. Whatever influence this man may have possessed in the past it is evident that he has about reached the end of his tether, and can no longer be considered worth purchasing.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

The wife of Vice President Colfax is seriously ill.

Senator Cameron was here on Saturday. He is after Forney's scalp, and wants to take the government advertising from the Press.

In view of the success of roguery against honesty in Pennsylvania, a sarcastic fellow suggests that the Conservatives throw Greeley and Brown overboard and nominate Cameron and Yerkes.

There is said to be positive evidence that not less than twenty-five hundred Democrats in Hon. Samuel T. Randall's district, (1st Pennsylvania) sold their votes for money to the Hartranft party. This accounts for Mr. Randall's decreased majority.

TOMMY HAUCK.

GREELEY IN NORTHEAST GEORGIA.

The Campaign Active--Col. Dorsey's Speech--Garnett McMillan.

HOMER, BANKS COUNTY, GA., October 10, 1872.

Editors Constitution: I write that your numerous readers may learn that Northeast Georgia is not standing with folded arms while the rest of the State is putting forth its strength in the cause of political reformation.

Court is now in session in Homer.

On Tuesday afternoon, Col. J. N. Dorsey, Greeley Elector for the 9th Congressional District, addressed a very large assemblage of the people of Banks county, who listened with ardent appreciation of his utterances. The speaker passed rapidly, but clearly, over the political progress of the Government from its beginning, then its various changes to the present day; portraid in a vivid manner the corruptions of the present corrupt administration; compaired the platforms of the contending parties and demonstrated beyond a cavil, the beneficial results to the people that must follow the election of Greeley and the success of the Liberal movement.

Colonel Dorsey's style of speaking is peculiarly his own. His thoughts are vigorous, robust and healthy, and strike home to the minds of his hearers and carries conviction, by force. He is the right man in the right place. He speaks at Carnsville next week, and will continue in the work until the Presidential election.

At the conclusion of Colonel Dorsey's speech, that sterling young Democrat, Major Garnett McMillan, was called for by the crowd, who responded in his usual easy, graceful, and forcible style. His short but pithy speech was received with great applause, and I have no doubt, with good effect.

On Wednesday, during recess of court the people were addressed by Hon. George D. Rice, sub elector for the State at large, who ably contrasted the present corrupt administration with the better days of the Republic; compared the platforms of the contending parties and demonstrated conclusively the necessity of a return to the ancient landmarks of our fathers. Judge Rice's argument was logical, forceable and conclusive, and received the enthusiastic applause of his auditory. With such speakers in the field, and such a cause to advocate, we can safely count on an overwhelming majority from the 9th Congressional District for Greeley and Brown in the approaching Presidential election.

A DEMOCRAT.

BORDEN WOMEN.

Frontier Charms of Untrimmed Grace.

Bonnie Bloom Hid by the Caresses of the Sunbeams.

Untrammeled by stays and ceremonies, the border woman has what few of her race entirely possesses—health. Not fictitious and deceptive rosiness of cheek and gracefulness of carriage, not whiteness of hands and willowy slenderness of waste, but coarse, awkward, brawny health.

FRONTIER FASHIONS.

Though the mistress of all the mysteries of the latest, and in an Indian fight a foe of no mean calibre, the wife of the frontier has some tinge of feminine refinement always about her, and despite the scarcity of inducement, by no means ignores the blandishments of comeliness in the matter of appearance. In society, women dress for women; in certain other walks of life they dress for men; and left alone, they dress for themselves. The story of the first garment ever made out of the new world's fresh green leaves tells only a part of the story. Here on the border, the old business of the sex, to look pretty, receives as much attention as it does anywhere.

There is not much choice of materials—calico is the article, and that, too, all the time. As she tilts back her wide bottomed chair like a man, it is easy to perceive that feet, which are not always coarse, are encased in brogans constructed with a special view to use rather than to beauty. The neck, sun-burned, but not always wanting in due proportion and natural whiteness, is ignorant of collar or confinement. Waist and limb are unconfined by any of the devices which are supposed to be so necessary to style, and the hair, combed straight and smooth, is twisted into a tight little knot behind, to the utter ignoring of the popular demand for chignons. In a frontier toilet, too, there is a marked lack of the essentials of starch and whiteness. Cleanliness there is, to be sure, but it is a cleanliness of fact and material, and fails in any suggestion of daintiness. It is upon the calico dress that the efforts of taste are mostly expended. There are ruffles there and bias strips and flounces and a hundred pretty and fantastic devices, which it is beyond masculine technology to describe. Yet there are no prescribed fashions for these little vagaries. Each woman expends her ingenuity according to her own ideas of beauty.

GENERAL COMELINESS.

Under the severest test the frontier has a comeliness of its own. It is not the paltry prettiness of gait and manner, and the charm of suave manners and cultured address. Frontier charms, where they exist at all, make models of stalwart, untrimmed grace. Health itself is beauty, and on the border it is pleasant to think that youth seldom wants its round curves and its crimson glow. There are women here whose hair falls in troublesome abundance and will not be confined; whose cheeks if they could but know the absence of the caresses of the sunbeams, and the boisterous kisses of the wind, would show the clearest white and the bonniest bloom. There are limbs which shuffle slipshop along the trails in search of lost animals, of whose strength the owner has little thought, and arms which split firewood and bring water from the spring, whose natural whiteness and mould would fit them rather for the adornment of golden clasps and folds of ancient lace.

A TOUCHING CASE.

A New York Girl Saved From Danger in Savannah.

From the Savannah News.]

A young girl, aged sixteen years, and booked as Lilla Howard, arrived here on Wednesday last on the steamship San Jacinto in search of employment. We learn that she is the daughter of a real estate broker in New York, and having recently returned from school, discovered that matters at home were not pleasant, and in consequence decided to seek a situation somewhere. She noticed an advertisement in the New York Herald for a teacher to go South and immediately answered it. The party gave her the greatest encouragement, but induced her to take another name. The woman who had inserted this advertisement, and thus entrapped this girl, it was subsequently found was a notorious procuress for a house of prostitution in this city. The girl was delighted at the prospect of getting a situation, and made her preparations to leave. The woman who pretended to be a friend, assisted her and went so far as to secure her passage on the San Jacinto to this city, booking her under the assumed name given above. She directed the girl on her arrival here to go to a well known house of prostitution in this city, assuring her that she would be welcomed and the position given her. The innocent child followed the instructions, at once sought and found the house specified. Here she met a physician who was in attendance upon some of the women and whom she informed of her object, etc., when greatly to her dismay and astonishment she learned of the deception which had been practised upon her. The physician determined to save the girl, if possible, and immediately informed a lady who has devoted herself to this mission of helping her fellow-creatures, of the facts in the case, who promised that the girl should be removed at once. She communicated the facts of the case to some clergymen, and the girl was taken away from the place and put in comfortable quarters, where she will be kept until her parents, who have been notified of her whereabouts, are heard from.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, October 16.—Augustus St. Clair, formerly of New Hampshire, in his deposition before Judge Brady yesterday, swore that at the time Fisk was shot by Stokes at the Grand Central Hotel, he saw a pistol in Fisk's hand. He also says that fear of arrest prevented him from giving this information on the trial.

The Liberal Republican Executive Committee have issued an address calling upon the Liberals to work with renewed energy for the election, as there are twenty States casting nearly two hundred electoral votes that they can still carry if they only will. The address says that they are in danger of defeat mainly because some faint hearts are discouraged, and urges the Liberals to resolve that by stout hearts and strong arms the Liberal Committee and candidates shall be borne onward to decisive triumph.

Dr. Mommonierre, resident physician of Brooklyn, homopathic, of Lying In Hospital, has been discharged by the lady managers on the ground that he is a Roman Catholic. Six of the eight physicians attached to the institution have, in consequence, resigned, and Henry Ward Beecher has uttered an indignant protest against this act of the managers.

John Van Sykle was arrested at his residence in Brooklyn, on the charge of having poisoned his wife. He had just returned from her funeral. A domestic was also arrested.

BUFFALO, N. Y., October 16.—Erland S. Parker, who was arraigned for the murder of Margaret Davis last June, pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to imprisonment for his natural life.

Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Chaselette, widows of the engineer and fireman who were killed on the Erie Railroad by the negligence of the train dispatcher in telegraphing for the trains to pass each other, have recovered damages to the amount of $5,000 each against the Erie Railroad.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., October 16.—General Rocha, commanding the Cis Rio Grande, is assisting the Texan authorities against the Mexican cattle thieves.

CINCINNATI, O., October 16.—The Vulcan Rolling Mill burned—loss $80,000.

PARIS, FRANCE, October 16.—Rouher has made an appeal to the Permanent Commission of the Assembly in behalf of Prince Napoleon. The Prince proposes to prosecute the Minister of the Interior for expelling him from France without authority of law. The Prince and Princess have left Geneva for Milan.

The German army of occupation have began to evacuate the Department of the Upper Marne, an election having been ordered in the Department to fill a vacant seat in the Assembly.

The Republicans held a convention after the American model, and nominated M. Cadue as their candidate.

The Conservatives had already placed M. De Forcade, Laroque & Co. in the field.

Gambetta is expected to visit Nantez and Bordeaux in a few days, where he will address the people in explanation of his Grenoble speech.

Cardinal Bonnechase, who has just returned from a visit to the Holy See, assures Thiers that the Pope will remain in Rome.

HAVANA, CUBA, October 16.—Private letters from Mexico says Leado de Tejada is exceedingly anxious to arrange the misunderstanding between the United States and Mexico, created by Guzman's conduct at Washington.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, October 16.—The submarine telegraph between Jamaica and Panama is now in working order and has been thrown open to the public for business. The following news dispatch for the Associated Press is one of the first received:

Aspinwal, October 9.—The Steamer Ocean Queen has sailed for New York.

The California steamer is now overdue five days.

A conspiracy against the government has been discovered in Costa Rica and defeated.

The report of an epidemic in Panama is untrue.

A serious riot took place in Valparaiso.

MADRID, SPAIN, October 16.—The Captain-General of Gallicia entered Ferrol Saturday night with a body of government troops. He now holds the town awaiting the arrival of reinforcements en route from Santardor and Gigon, and with his increased force, expects to crush the insurrection without shedding blood.

The municipal authorities of Ferrol yesterday, made a request of the commander of the government forces to suspend making his attack on the resurrectionists, who are concentrated in the arsenal, as negotiations for their surrender were in progress. The commander consented to wait until the after noon, when, if the insurgents had not surrendered, he intended to attack them.

A later dispatch from Ferrol, forwarded from that city yesterday, says the frigate Victoria was hourly expected in the harbor, and preparations were being made for an attack upon the insurrectionists by combined land and sea forces. Hostilities were to have commenced at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, if the rebels had not surrendered.

ROME, ITALY, October 16.—Twenty-one new books have been placed on the Index Expurgatorius.

The German bishops have protested to the Pope against molestation by the Prussian Government.

LIVERPOOL, ENG., October 16.—Five thousand laborers on the steamship docks in this city are on a strike.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between us, the undersigned, Andrew Low, John Wood and John David Hopkins, as Commission Merchants, at Liverpool, in England, under the firm of Isaac Low & Co., and at Savannah, in the State of Georgia, under the firm of Andrew Low & Co., was this day dissolved by mutual consent, so far as regards the said Andrew Low.

ANDREW LOW, JOHN WOOD, JOHN D. HOPKINS.

Dated this 31st day of August, 1872.

MR. ANDREW LOW, as above announced, having retired from the firm of Messrs. Isaac Low & Co., of Liverpool, the business of that firm will be continued as heretofore, under the same firm name, by the remaining parties, viz: John Wood and John D. Hopkins, with James Torrance Wood, who is this day admitted as a partner.

JOHN WOOD, JOHN D. HOPKINS, JOHN T. WOOD.

Limited Copartnership Notice.

WE, the undersigned, have this day entered into a limited Copartnership, under the laws of Georgia, to do business at Savannah, Ga., under the firm name of Hopkins & Wood.

The general nature of the business to be transacted is that of COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

John D. Hopkins, of Savannah, Ga., John Wood and James Torrance Wood, of Liverpool, England, are General Partners, and Andrew Low, of Savannah, Ga., is Special Partner.

Said copartnership business commences September 1st, 1872, and terminates August 31st, 1874. Andrew Low, as such special partner, has paid into the common stock of the firm one hundred thousand dollars in gold.

JOHN D. HOPKINS, Savannah, Georgia, JOHN WOOD, JAMES TORRANCE WOOD, Liverpool, England, ANDREW LOW, Savannah, Georgia.

IF EITHER IS ELECTED

EVERY PERSON IN THE STATE

will want to get into some business that they can

MAKE A HANDSOME THING OF.

WE have two articles of our own invention and patent that is needed in every household, and useful for every family and farm, ... for which we wish to sell territory. We have all the territory of the United States to sell or exchange for good real estate, except the States of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Alabama and three counties in the State of Georgia.

One of our inventions and patents is a Peach Stoner and Halver. With this machine, one hand can do the work of six or eight hands, and at the same time increasing the value of the fruit 25 to 30 per cent; when dried, as it cuts the peach in strictly halves and thereby prevents worms from getting in the dried fruit.

Men, in selling the machines, can make very easily if a good salesman from FIVE TO FIFTY DOLLARS per day, clear of all expense.

Having been a cotton planter, and being fond of farming, I would exchange the right to one or both articles for a specified amount of territory for a good plantation, with or without stock and provisions, in South Georgia or Middle Florida.

Sterling's Southern Series

—OF—

Readers, Orators & Copy Books.

THE undersigned now own the plates of this POPULAR SERIES; and as they are the only Purely Southern School Books offered in the market, we submit that it is to the interest of Teachers to patronize them. Send for circulars of Special Terms to Teachers—VERY LIBERAL. Specimen copies sent free for examination.

Prof. Orr, the Superintendent of Education for Georgia, says of them:

Messrs. J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.—Gentlemen: I have given to the Sterling Series of School Books, which you have had the kindness to leave with me, such examination as the limited amount of leisure at my command has allowed. With several books of the series I was already familiar, having added greatly to the interest of several public examinations, while engaged in active school work, by selections from their pages. While there ought not to be anything offensively sectional in our school literature, I must be allowed to say that I find in the pages of these books ... of both pleasure and pride that I find in the pages of these books so liberal a recognition of Southern talent. I am glad, too, to learn that their publication is to be transferred to our own State. Southern independence will be soonest achieved by producing, as far as possible, every necessary for the supply of all our wants, both material and mental, upon our own soil. I will only add that I would be pleased to see the books extensively used.

Respectfully yours,

GUSTAVUS J. ORR, State School Commissioner.

Notice to Subscribers—Cash Hereafter.

The great bulk of subscribers to THE CONSTITUTION pay in advance, but a considerable number fail to do so, causing exceeding annoyance and much loss, which we cannot afford. Moreover, it is not just to those who pay and pay in advance. We have, therefore, determined to require cash from January 1st, 1873.

There will, positively, be no exception to the rule. All subscriptions must be accompanied with the cash.

For the Fair.

Our advertising patrons will bear in mind that THE CONSTITUTION publishes a regular afternoon edition. This will be circulated largely at the Fair Ground every day of the fair. We already have a large number of advertisements prepared with a view to the fair.

Our People Meditate no Resistance to Law.

The Herald's rejoinder to our article requires notice. The managers may be Methusalehs in journalism, but if they will study courtesy they will gain something that antiquity seems to have failed to teach them.

They may deem it for their interest to ascribe our comments on their article to unkind feeling, but they do it at the expense of fact. The business managers of this journal knew nothing of the article until it appeared in print. The political editor, whose every feeling is friendly to the managers of the Herald, and who would not only scorn to injure their enterprise, but who has never failed to speak kindly of it, when in his power, wrote the article from a sense of public duty. He was urged to reply to it before he did, but declined to do so from the very kindest of reluctance to say anything against a new candidate for public favor. It was only when Farrow's use of the article to the misrepresentation of the people rendered it necessary that we spoke out.

The harm of that article cannot be calculated. It will be impossible to cure the injury. The Herald might recant it whole, and it would not antidote the wrong. It is just what was wanted. It is an ebullition of the falsely alleged Southern spirit of resistance to Federal law that has been made the pretext for Southern oppression. It will be copied and quoted on every stump and in every press by the Radicals to stir up popular support North and West for the Radical policy. The Herald may rake up a dozen indorsements of its article from sources as inconsiderate. That will simply do more harm and will no more show the unfortunate utterance to be representative.

The Herald has thought proper to continue its discourteous flings in replying to us. It even goes to the absurd extent of incorrectly insinuating timidity in battling for our proper rights. The charge needs no reply. It may be easily understood, however. An offset was needed to the Herald's indiscretion. It is welcome to it. And if disapproving rash and thoughtless expressions about forcible resistance to law is timidity then we are timid. The difference between disapproval of a law and resistance to law, the Herald would do well to study. None have been more plain-spoken about the law and all other unconstitutional legislation of a Radical Congress than we have. None hold in deeper indignation or more out-spoken censure the oppressions of the law than we do. But while it is on the statute book, and being enforced by the regular authorities, to say that it ought to be forcibly resisted, if resistance could be successful, is as mad a piece of folly as ever was uttered. The original utterance was injudicious. Persistance in it is criminal. It puts the people in a false position. It invites the very oppression we have been seeking to remove. It gives ground for the very imposition of burdens that we seek to get rid of. The Radicals have gotten votes sanctioning their forcible reconstruction on the very basis that such dealing was necessary to curb the rebellious spirit of the Southern people, and compel obedience to the general government. Does the Herald claim that "hatred of despotism and love of liberty" are to be shown by means that rivet the despotism and destroy the liberty? Is submission to law, even though odious, truckling and time-serving? Is avoidance of worthless boasts of purpose to resist disagreeable statutes abject yielding to wrongs? Is common sense timidity? Does the Herald dub its fatuous and futile and childish bluster about resisting a law that applies all over the country, a demand from Georgia of liberty from the North and perfect equality with New York and Massachusetts? Just when true men are trying everywhere to arouse the country to the danger of such legislation as the enforcement act to secure its repeal, our contemporary blurts out his rash and un-called-for utterances that speak nobody's views but the man who wrote them, and that he should so state in justice to the people, and contributes to keep alive the tyranny by affording pretext for its further exercise.

We protest that the Herald's article was not a representative expression of Southern sentiment, and it is due to our people who are struggling to check tyranny, that the Herald should so state.

CALIFORNIA WHEAT.—The surplus wheat of California for this year is estimated at 10,000,000 bushels, or more than twice as much as any year since 1865. The quality is of the best, and so abundant is the crop that much difficulty is experienced in getting it to tide-water. Passengers by the Pacific Railroad report great piles of bags of grain lying along the track awaiting transportation to the coast. It is said that the total tonnage of the Pacific coast will not be sufficient to take away more than one-half the grain now awaiting export, during the present year, and that the balance will have to be stored. The weight of the grain is 600,000 tons of 2,000 pounds each.

DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA.

Delivered in Atlanta, Tuesday, October 15, 1872.

[REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION BY HENRY JACKSON, SUPREME COURT REPORTER.]

Wm. H. Kidd, administrator, vs. Lewis J. Dupree, administrator. Claim, from Oglethorpe.

WARNER, C. J.

The only question made by the record in this case is whether a widow, who has no children living with her dependent on her for support, is entitled to a homestead out of the property of her deceased husband, as the head of a family, according to the true intent and meaning of the Constitution of 1868. The manifest intention of the Constitution was to provide for the families of minor children, and to authorize the applicant to have a homestead, he or she must be the head of a family, or guardian, or trustee of a family of minor children, and this intention is the more apparent, because it is made the duty of the General Assembly, by the Constitution, to provide by law for the setting apart the homestead for the sole use and benefit of the said families, as aforesaid, but not for the use and benefit of those who have no families whom they are legally bound to support.

In our judgment, the applicant, under the statement of the facts contained in the record, was not entitled to a homestead in the property of her deceased husband as the head of a family, as contemplated by the Constitution. Lynch vs. Pace, 40th Geo. Rep., 173—Calhoun vs. McLendon, 42d Geo. Rep., 405.

Let the judgment of the Court below be affirmed.

W. G. Johnson, W. W. McLester, for plaintiff in error.

J. D. Mathews, contra.

B. J. Wilson & Co. vs. A. J. Walker. Complaint, from Richmond.

WARNER, C. J.

This was an action brought by the plaintiffs against the defendant on an open account. The defendant plead as a set-off to the plaintiffs' demand eleven bales of cotton alleged to be of the value of one thousand dollars, which the defendant avers in his plea, had been delivered to the plaintiffs by him in the city of Savannah in the fall or winter of 1867. On the trial of the case, the jury found a verdict for the defendant for the sum of $447 66. A motion was made for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was contrary to law, and the evidence, and for error in the charge of the Court to the jury, and refusal to charge as requested. Which motion for a new trial was overruled by the Court, and the plaintiffs excepted. It appears from the evidence in the record, that the cotton plead as a set-off to the plaintiffs' demand, was made on his plantation in Burke county, which he had rented to his tenants, Walker & Dickinson, for one-fourth of the cotton made thereon. There had been no division of the crop between the defendant and his tenants, but the cotton made on the plantation was delivered to the railroad agent to be forwarded to the plaintiffs by Walker & Dickinson, and the question in the case is, whether there is sufficient evidence under the law, to make the plaintiffs liable to the defendant for his rent cotton delivered by Walker & Dickinson to the railroad agent to be forwarded to them. To establish the defendant's set off against the plaintiffs, the law requires the same evidence as if the defendat had sued them as plaintiff for the value of the cotton. The evidence is that forty bales of cotton were delivered to the railroad agent at Waynesboro by Walker & Dickinson, consigned to Wilson & Wilkinson, Savannah. There is no evidence of the receipt of the cotton by the plaintiffs, or if they had received it that they knew that one-fourth of it was the property of the defendant. The defendant states that to the best of his recollection he notified the plaintiffs of his intention to send his rent cotton. William E. Walker, one of the partners of Walker & Dickinson, states, that he informed the plaintiffs by letter in the fall, but could not say at what particular time, that the defendant claimed one-fourth of the cotton for rent. The plaintiffs positively deny in their evidence all knowledge that one-fourth of the cotton raised on defendants' plantation in Burke county, by Walker & Dickinson, was the property of defendant, and deny that any cotton of defendant was ever consigned to them. If there had been sufficient evidence in the record to create a prima facie liability of the plaintiffs for the value of the cotton under the law, we should not disturb the verdict, but in our judgment there is not. There is no evidence that the plaintiffs ever received the cotton. The delivery of the cotton by Walker & Dickinson to the railroad agent at Waynesboro, consigned to them without more, is not sufficient evidence to charge them with the value of the cotton, even if they had known that one-fourth of the cotton raised on the Burke county plantation by Walker & Dickinson was the property of the defendant. If the defendant had brought his action against the plaintiffs to recover the value of the cotton, he would not have been entitled to do so under his own evidence in this case—admitting all that he proved to be true—and he is in no better condition as defendant, seeking to establish his set-off against the plaintiffs' demand, than if he was suing them for the value of the cotton as plaintiff. There is no evidence of the delivery of the cotton to the plaintiffs as the property of the defendant, or of any sale or appropriation of it, or its proceeds by them, in violation of their duty as bailees or factors, or of their instructions as such, no evidence that any demand was ever made on them for the cotton or its proceeds. In our judgment the verdict of the jury, under the defendant's evidence in this case, was contrary to law, and that the Court below erred in overruling the motion for a new trial.

Let the judgment of the Court below be reversed.

L. E. Bleckley, John T. Shewmate, for plaintiffs in error.

A. R & H. G. Wright, contra.

John Phinizy vs. The City Council of Augusta. Case, from Richmond.

WARNER, C. J.

This was an action brought by the plaintiff against the defendants, to recover damages for causing water to be thrown upon the plaintiff's land by the construction of their drains and sewers from the city of Augusta, for the benefit of the city. On the trial of the case, the jury found a verdict for the defendant. A motion was made for a new trial on the several grounds of error set forth in the record, which was overruled, and the plaintiff excepted. The Court charged the jury in addition to other charges given to them. "That if the plaintiff purchased any land liable to overflow from the drains of the city of Augusta, it was his misfortue, and he could not recover, as a man must purchase land subject to overflow from any natural cause, at his own risk." This charge of the Court, in view of the facts of the case, was error, in my judgment. Whilst it may be true as a general rule that if a man purchases land subject to overflow from natural causes he purchases it at his own risk, still that general rule, was not applicable to the facts of this case. The plaintiff's land was below the city, and if it was overflowed by water which naturally accumulated by the rains which fell upon the city and the surrounding more elevated land, and naturally run down towards and upon the plaintiff's land over other land, between the city and the plaintiff's land, as the God of nature made it to run, then, the plaintiff could not recover—but that is not the case made by the evidence in the record. The water which falls upon the city by natural rains, as well as that which had been introduced into the city for manufacturing and other purposes, is concentrated into drains, and runners, constructed by the defendants for the benefit of the city, and is thus precipitated upon the plaintiff's land. The water which flows from the city towards the plaintiff's land is not permitted to flow over the other land between the city and his land in its natural course, so as to allow any portion of it to be absorbed it its transit, but it is concentrated and confined to the drains and runners constructed by the defendants for the benefit of the city. This charge of the Court assumes, that the overflow of the plaintiff's land from the drains constructed by the city for its own benefit, was an overflow of his land from a natural cause, whereas, the overflowing of the plaintiff's land by the construction of the defendants' drains, was caused by artifical means created by the defendants for their own benefit. If by the construction of such drains and runners to carry off the water which naturally falls upon the city, and the water which has been introduced into the city by means of the canal, a greater volume or quantity of water is thus thrown upon the plaintiff's land than otherwise would be there, but for the construction of the defendants' drains and sewers, then the defendants are liable to the plaintiff for whatever damages he may have sustained thereby, although the water may ... sewers so constructed by the defendants. If, by the introduction of an immense quantity of water into the city by means of the canal when added to the natural fall of water thereon, the drains and sewers constructed by the defendants to carry off such water, cause a greater quantity of water to be thrown on to the plaintiffs' land than would otherwise be there, it is a nuisance, for which he may maintain his action for damages. A nuisance, as defined by the law, is anything that worketh hurt, inconenience or damage, to another, and the fact that the act done may otherwise be lawful, does not keep it from being a nuisance—Code 2,949. The alienee of the person owning the property injured may sue for a continuance of the nuisance—Code 2,950. As was said by Lumpkin J., in Bonner vs. Wellborn (7th Geo. Rep. 327,) "So jealous and guarded have been the Courts relative to this matter, that they have steadily ruled, that a person never can by prescription, or otherwise, acquire a right to maintain a nuisance. The principle of the law applicable to such cases is, that a continuance of the nuisance constitutes a new cause of action from day to day, so long as the nuisance continues to exist, in favor of the party injured thereby. The Court also charged the jury, "that it was the duty of every municipal corporation to keep open its drains and sewers, and that if damage ensued from the flowing of water therefrom in its natural course the defendants were not liable." This charge of the Court, as applicable to the facts of the case, was in my judgment, error. The latter part of it ignores the real question in issue between the parties, (to-wit,) whether the defendants by the construction of their drains and sewers to carry off the water from the city, had thrown a larger quantity of water upon the plaintiff's land than otherwise would have been there, but the Court in effect told the jury, that if damage ensued to the plaintiff from the flowing of water from the defendant's drains and sewers in its natural course therein, the defendants were not liable, whether the quantity of water thrown on the plaintiff's land was increased thereby or not. The Court further charged the jury, "that if the defendants caused any damage by turning off the water of the Augusta canal through the drains of the city, they were responsible therefor, but that they were not liable for any damage caused by overflowing the banks, or for discharging the water to avoid overflow"

This charge, in my judgment, was also error and calculated to mislead the jury. The effect of the charge was to tell them that the defendants might discharge the water through their drains upon the plaintiff's land, to avoid an overflow of the same, caused by the turning off of the water of the Augusta Canal through the drains of the city without being liable for any damages. It is true the Court did not tell the jury in so many words that the defendants might discharge the water which run in their drains from the Augusta Canal on the plaintiff's land to prevent an overflow of their drains without being liable for damages, but whereelse was the water to be discharged, according to the facts in the case, if not on the plaintiff's land? It was the duty of the defendants when they undertook to construct drains and sewers for the purpose of carrying off the water from the city, so to construct and manage the same as not to overflow the land of other people, and if they failed to constuct their drains of sufficient capacity to do so, they certainly had no legal right to discharge the water on the plaintiff's land to avoid an overflow of their own drains. According to the general principles of the law applicable to the facts of this case, as I understand them, the defendants (a municipal corporation) were bound so to construct and manage their drains and sewers for the benefit of the city as to carry off the water therefrom without injury to the rights of others; and if by the unskilful construction of such drains and sewers or by the negligent management of the same by the defendants, their agents or servants, injury and damage result therefrom, they are liable for such injury and damage. The main controling question in this case is whether the plaintiff has been injured and damaged by the defendants in consequence of having a greater quantity of water thrown upon his land by the defendants' drains and sewers for the benefit of the city than would otherwise be there if such drains and sewers had not been constructed to carry off the water from the city, including that introduced by the Augusta Canal, under its present management by the city authorities. Although, in my judgment, there is a preponderance of evidence in favor of the plaintiff, still I would not disturb the verdict, but for the errors in the charge of the Court to the jury. The case was not fairly submitted to the jury under the law applicable thereto.

Let the judgment of the Court below be reversed.

Frank H. Miller, for plaintiff in error.

A. R. Wright, contra.

McCay, J., and Montgomery, J., concurring.

Any incorporeal rights which may lawfully be granted, as the right to divert water from, or the right to flow water upon the land of another may be acquired by presciption, to wit, by the uninterrupted use and ejoying ment thereof for twenty years.

The owner of land through which there flows a stream of water may not divert the same so as to interfere with the enjoyment thereof by the land owners upon the stream above and below. But this rule does not apply to the water falling upon land as by rain or snow and a municipal corporation is not liable to an action for damages, because by its streets, roofs and drains, it causes the water from rains and other water produced upon its surface, to flow upon adjoining lands which are the natural outlets of such water, even though such water is, by these means, concentrated into a stream and would, otherwise, have flown over said land in many small streams.

If a municipal corporation introduce, within its boundaries, water for manufacturing purposes and by turning said water into its drains increase the water flowing into adjoining lands to the damage of the same, an action will lie for the damages against the corporation and this is true, even if the increased water thus cast upon the adjoining land is emptied thereon to prevent the said canal from overflowing its banks, or by reason of the actual overflow of said banks, provided the adjoining lands would not have been overflowed without said canal.

The measure of damages for any illegal overflow of lands is the actual damages coming to the land by such illegal overflow.

McCAY, J.

When A sold land to B, taking his note for the purchase money, secured by a mortgage on the land, which was duly recorded, and B sold a portion of the land to C, who paid a part of his purchase money to B, and for the ballance, joined with B in a note to A, secured by a mortgage to A on the lands of both B and C, A giving up the old note and mortgage,

HELD, That on the foreclosure of the mortgage, the fi. fa. may sell the land of C, notwithstanding, C may have had the same set-off, as his homestead. Whether the purchase money debt of C to B was satisfied by novation, is not material. The note and mortgage given by C to A, was for the removal of an encumbrance from the land, and brought the land within the exceptions to the homestead clause of the Constitution of 1868.

MONTGOMERY, J.

If land be sold and the purchaser indorse the note of a third person to the vendor in payment, and transfer a mortgage to him securing said note, there is no such novation of the contract, no change in the relations of the parties to each other as to deprive the vendor of his right to enforce the payment of the purchase money by levy on the land, (which has been set apart by the purchaser as a homestead) under execution against the indorser and maker of the note. The land was the consideration given for the indorsement of the note and mortgage. MONTGOMERY, J.

Where proceedings are instituted to establish a lost note, and suit is commenced after the rule nisi has issued, as allowed by section 3,910 of the Code, and pending the cause the original note is found, it is not error to allow plaintiff to amend his declaration, so as to sue upon the original note, thus found, even though there may be some immaterial discrepancies between the original note and the copy which it was sought to establish.

Title to personal property may pass by sale without present delivery; but a mere promise to deliver, for a consideration paid, after the owner shall have done something necessary to enable him to deliver, does not pass title. The intention of the parties will govern. Thus, where A. buys land of B. for which he gives him the note of a third person, and they afterwards cancel their trade, but B. having lost the note, promises to have a copy established, and then to deliver it in lieu of the lost original, or to deliver the original if found, the title to the note passed to A. or not, at the time of the cancellation of the land trade, accordingly as the parties may have intended. The jury in this case having found that the parties did not intend to pass the title to the note, until it was safely delivered to A., which finding is supported by evidence, the verdict will not be disturbed. ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

NEW YORK MATTERS.

Another Railroad Disaster.

Indians on the Rampage.

Morrel Re-Elected from Vermont.

General Intelligence.

Financial and Commercial.

WASHINGTON, Dc., October 15.—Rear Admiral Wm. Rogers, commanding the South Atlantic stations, reports to the Navy Department that Gen. Witre envoy extraordinary from the Argentive Republic to Brazil visited the flag ship Lancaster, on the 13th of September and was received with the usual honors.

Rear Admiral Hillyeor of the British Navy, arrived at Reo on the 14th of September on his way to the Pacific to take command of the English squadron. In those waters the United States Steamer Oscifee, commander, J. N. Miller, arrived at Rio on the 5th of September. Sixty days from Valparaiso and was to sail for New York on the 23d of Sptember to examine certain reported dangers near Cape St. Rouke and Fernando Norowha. Tycondaroga was to sail on the twenty-fifth of September for the River Platte. The Wash was at Montivedo on the 10th. The health of the officers and crews of the various vessels was good.

Probabilities: The barometer will continue to fall on the lower lakes, with brisk or high southerly winds. Threatening weather and rain in the Middle and New England States. Southerly to westerly winds, falling barometer, warmer and cloudy weather in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, and generally clear weather, with southerly to westerly winds in the former, and southeasterly winds on the Gulf coasts. On the upper lakes and in the northwest, cold, clearing and partially cloudy weather. Rising barometer and brisk northwesterly winds with frosts on Wednesday night. Generally clearing and cold weather in the Missouri and Ohio valleys, with northerly to westerly winds. Cautionary signals continue at Milwaukee, Grand Haven, and Chicago, and are ordered for Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo.

NEW YORK, October 16.—A motion was made to postpone the Trial of Thomas C. Field, charged with fraud against the city. It was denied that the trial was set for the 20th instant. Field's counsel said he was unaware of his whereabouts.

The counsel for Tweed moved to quash the indictment in Oyer and Terminer, which was for cheating in converting to his use an order on the city. The grounds of objection were, that the indictment does not allege signature of the payee, forged or otherwise, and, therefore, the warrant could not be proved properly; that after said indictment and others to the same bill of Keyser & Co. were found against the defendant in General Sessions for larceny and forgery and that the last indictment superseded the first under the statute; also that what is stolen cannot be got by cheating. His counsel also claimed that he was persecuted by a multiplicity of indictments.

The argument was adjourned, at the request of counsel representing the Attorney General, till Thursday.

The National Board of Trade met to-day in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. President Dodge of the Chamber, made a welcoming address and referred to the great interest felt in the forthcoming deliberations of the Board and recounted the vast increase in the various manufactures, products and other material interests of the country. The Board will meet for business at the City Hall, the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce not being adequate to the comfort of its members.

GOLDSBORO, October 15.—The boiler of an engine of a freight train at Dorer Station, near Newbern, N. C., on the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad exploded this morning, killing the conductor, Arndell, and engineer, Faisson, and mortally wounding the fireman. Cause of the explosion unknown.

MILWAUKIE, October 15.—All boats from Sac La Belle are safe. Half a dozen went down with a vessel.

MEMPHIS, TENN., October 15.—The feverish state of excitement still exists in Osceola, Ark., and many of the citizens are fleeing with their families in the anticipation of another attack of the negroes. No further bloodshed is reported. The whites of the village are still under arms, and all approaches are guarded.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., October 15.—Advices from Tuckson, Arizona Territory, of October 8th, says that on the 13th of September, the Apachee Indians attacked Hughes Ranch, near Crittenden, and killed a Mexican and stole the animals belonging to his farm. Lieutenant Hall, of the 5th Cavalry went to the Ranche, where Mrs. Gahara and her children were besieged by Indians, and found the savages, one hundred strong, armed with breach-loading guns, when they retired to the mountains and defied the troops.

A Seargeant and five men were dispatched to warn the farmers of Sonata Valley of the presence of the hostile Indians near Hughes' ranch, but were attacked, and Seargeant Stewart, Corporal Wm. Nation, private Edward Carr and John Walsh, were killed. Lt Hall received orders from General Howard not to fire on the Indians in the mountains unless he found them engaged in actual outrages. The same order was sent to all military posts north of the Gila river.

On the same day of the murder of the soldiers, Gen Howard was at this time in the Dragoon Mountains with the noted Apache Chief Cochise, trying to induce him to reservation. On the 6th of October a band of Apaches from the Santa Villar Mountains, with a herd of stolen cattle attacked a party of miners thirty miles from Tucson killed and robbed them of all their animals.

Two of the miners are missing. The Indian are armed with the best kind of breach-loading guns and fixed ammunition.

MONTPELIER, VT., October 15.—The Legislature this evening re-elected J. S. Morrill United States Senator. The Democrats voted for Waldo Bingham, of Hyde Park.

LONDON, ENG., October 15.—Washburne, the American Minister to France, sailed from Southampton to day for New York, on the steamer Deutchland.

A special dispatch from Paris to the London Telegraph, says President Thiers, yesterday, said he had received information that the released Communeists now in Paris, had in their possession 2,000 bombs similar to those used by the Orsini and his compatrols when they attempted to assassinate ex-Emperor Napoleon in 1858.

TO SEWING MACHINE AGENTS AND OTHERS

THE "DOMESTIC" Sewing Machine IS THE BEST OF ALL.

50 POINTS OF SUPERIORITY.

1. Perfection of Stich on all kinds of goods, without change of tension.
2. Great Range of Work—finest Muslin to coarse Beaver or sole Leather.
3. Ease of Operation.
4. Simplicity—having 100 less parts than some others.
5. SELF-ADJUSTING TENSIONS—not found in any other.
6. Uses Silk, Linen Thread, or Glazed Cotton with facility.
7. Noiseless, or more nearly so than any other using a shuttle.
8. Durability—few bearings—easy motion—hardened parts
9. Very large bobbin—two or three times as large as some others.
10. Convenient spooler and durable—ready for use as soon as bobbin is inserted.
11. Convenience for Lengthening Stitch—on top, behind the arm.
12. Swing Presser Foot—allowing work to be easily removed.
13. Extra Size and Room under Arm—permitting goods to pass through easily.
14. Extra Room under Presser Foot and Needle—admitting very thick cloth.
15. Needle can be easily Set.
16. CANNOT BE PUT OUT OF "TIME"—has no Cams or Gear Wheels.
17. Easily oiled without removing Machine—only seven oiling places.
18. Easily cleansed—so few pieces, and those all large—cleaning not often required.
19. Cylindrical hardened Cast Steel Shuttle, very durable
20. Cannot Oil the Thread, because the shuttle entirely encloses the bobbin.
21. Cannot soon wear out—has little friction.
22. Cannot miss stitches—peculiar motion of needle bar and shuttle.
23. Not liable to break needles.
24. Shuttle cannot get out of order—has no screws or pieces soldered to it
25. Does not change length of stitch when in use, as many others do.
26. Does not change Tension
27. Has no Tension on bobbin, therefore stitch alike at all times.
28. Has straight Needle—sews very Heavy Goods with ease
29. Starting Wheel on Top, avoiding trouble of reaching underneath.
30. Can be taken apart and put together in ten minutes, ready for use.
31. Automatic Take-up—making perfect stitch with uneven thread, in thin or thick work.
32. Easily threaded—and alike at all times, without regard to size of thread.
33. Does not break threads, as many do,
34. Easy motion—short crank—easy treadle—can be operated by an invalid.
35. No shuttle carrier slides to consume power, and require frequent oiling.
36. Feed rod connected with shuttle lever, saving power, avoiding complicated machinery.
37. Easy method of raising or lowering the Feed,
38. Simple device for fastening, setting and removing needle,
39. Perfect action of Shuttle-carrier
40. Feed always starts from needle, whether regulated for long or short stitches.
41. Table that cannot warp or split—3 layers wood—grains run both ways.
42. Drop-leaf that nearly doubles size of table, made same as table.
43. Cover that cannot warp, crack nor shrink, because grains run both ways.
44. Swing Drawer that cannot drop or break down, as others are apt to do.
45. Castors for easily moving the machine about the room
46. Gatherer that makes any fullness even between two other pieces.
47. Embroiderer that uses Chinille or Coarse Silk, &c., making and sewing on at once.
48. Working parts all thoroughly hardened
49. Peculiar combination of Needle, Shuttle and Take-up motion.
50. Parts interchangeable. If any part breaks, a new piece is easily substituted.

☞ EXPERIENCED OPERATORS BEST APPRECIATE THE ABOVE ADVANTAGES.

Our many customers in Atlanta---the most of whom have disposed of other Machines to procure ours---will testify to the superior merits we claim.

Editors Constitution: The resolution, relative to the hours for the Sixth Ward nominations on the 19th instant, is from 10, A. M., to 7, P. M., instead of from 10, A. M., to 6, P. M., as published on Sunday.

Col. W. G. Gramling was elected Treasurer of the Democratic Club, which was omitted in the notice of the proceedings. WM. A. FULLER, Secretary Committee and 1st Vice President.

RADICAL POW-WOW AT THE CITY HALL.—A considerable number of negroes, and a few whites, assembled at the City Hall last night to organize a Grant and Wilson club.

James Tate (colored) was made temporary chairman, after which the club was organized by the election of J. R. W. Johnson, President; Zack Rice, ... and Watts, all colored, Vice Presidents; John L. Conley, Secretary, and James Tate, (colored) Treasurer.

T. G. Campbell, Sr., in response to calls, spoke five or six minutes on the necessity of organization. After which the meeting disbanded. There was no enthusiasm.

HUNNICUTT & BELLINGRATH.—This firm is one of the largest in their line in the South. Their business is by no means confined to Atlanta, but extends far over this State, and also into neighboring States. They deal in stoves, furnaces, mantels of all kinds, steam and gas-fittings, chandeliers, etc. They have a superior supply of plumbers' brass goods, etc. They are manufacturers of the celebrated concrete sewer pipe, from 4 to 26 inches diameter. This pipe is used extensively by the city for sewers, and is No. 1. One has only to examine it to be convinced of its superiority.

Messrs. H. & B. are also agents for Knowles' steam pump, and for the Macon portable gas machine. We have seen this machine in operation, and know that it is successful in producing an excellent gas-light, and at reduced cost.

Another Ward Heard From.

The Democrats of the 5th ward met last night, and was called to order by Anthony Murphy, President of the Club.

On motion of Mr. Fowler, the chair appointed A. L. Fowler, R. E. Cowart and G. W. Hall, as a committee of three to prepare business for the meeting.

The committee reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, 1st, That for the purpose of selecting a suitable candidate to serve for Mayor for the year 1873, and two suitable candidates to represent the 5th ward in the city council for the ensuing year, that the polls be opened at Tallulah Engine House on Saturday, the 26th day of October, 1872, at 10 o'clock A. M., and kept open until 6 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of balloting for such candidates, and the two receiving the largest number of votes be declared the nominees, and the vote for Mayor be counted and consolidated with that of the other wards.

2. Resolved, That A O H Gay, M T Simmons, James D Collins and Harvey Mays be requested to act as managers at the said nomination and the said managers appoint their clerks and that every Democrat be requested to come out and express their preferences in order that the unity and harmony of the party may be preserved.

3. Resolved, That we endorse the resolution adopted by the First and Sixth Wards.

Mr. Holcomb moved that the chair appoint five Democrats as an executive committee. Motion adopted, and the chair appointed G. W. Hall, Dr. M... Queen, E C Murphy, Thomas Kile and James R. Wylie.

There being some objection to the appointing of the managers, Mr. R. E. Cowart moved that Dr. Henry be allowed to select an additional manager, which was adopted, and Dr. Henry selected Harvey Mays as the fourth manager.

Appropriate speeches were made by Mr. Rice, Dr. Rogers, Mr. Goldsmith, Dr. Huey, Capt. Newman, S. P. Walls and Dr. Roach.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

THE REPUBLIC BLOCK.—Atlanta has no more imposing building, or more creditable addition to her architecture than the Republic Block opposite the Kimball House. It covers the entire front of the block including nine lots. The wings and a central tenement are ornamentally raised. The whole is uniform in its ornamentation. The central part has massive terra cotta figures. All of the ornamentation is the work of those excellent artists Pellegrinni and Georgi.

The building is principally a wholesale headquarters. In the right hand tenement M. C. & J. F. Kiser have three floors, with their million of yearly business. This enterprising firm is a favorite patron of THE CONSTITUTION. They are among our most public-spirited and successful merchants.

Next to them Jordan, Howard & Haralson have a tobacco store. Next the firm of Markham & Andrews wholesale boots and shoes. This is another large firm. The central tenement will be occupied by the Republic Insurance Company.

The wholesale firm of Crane, Boyleston & Co., formerly of Charleston, do business in the next. The corner is held by Tommey, Stewart & Beck, who cover two floors with their large stock of hardware. O'Conner & Robertson flourish above them.

On the corner on the second floor, as the handsome sign indicates George Sharp, Jr., has his beautiful jewelry rooms, constituting, perhaps, the most ornamental and attractive part of the entire building. With the frescoed walls and the glittering jewelry, and his polite ways, Mr. Sharp has made an alluring business resort, and is building a fine trade in this line.

Altogether, this building is a fine companion to the Kimball House. It has congregated together a fine lot of merchants, and should be a matter of pride to all Atlanta citizens.

THE EPISCOPAL BAZAAR.

Bewildering Blaze of Beauty.

Concentrated Corruscation of Charming Cherubs.

Grand, Gorgeous and Glorious Success.

The Skating Rink was jammed last night. There was a bewildering blaze of beauty, a flood of loveliness, a full tide of grace. The lunch tables were well patronized. Mrs. Walker's punch bowl had to be replenished half a dozen times. It was a scene of pleasure. Everybody seemed to be talking to everybody and enjoying themselves. We have never seen a more brilliant success.

The different tables presented a handsome and attractive appearance. Miss Ellie Rushton presides at one with bewitching grace and queenly mien.

Miss Annie Isham has charge of the Wheel of Fortune—the very genius of good fortune, and happiness. She is the handsomest of fortune tellers. To-night will be the grand night of the season.

OUR STATE FAIR.

Second Day's Operations.

The Crowd Increasing.

Trial of the Road Steamer.

Trotting Matches.

Yesterday opened beautifully. The wind ceased its blustering, and the sun shone out in royal splendor. There were quite a number of additional entries, and the crowd in attendance was largely increased.

OPERATIONS OF THE ROAD STEAMER.

The road steamer was thoroughly tested yesterday. With facility it traversed the grounds up hill and down hill and over very rough and uneven ground. Six wagons loaded with about twenty tons of stone was transported with great ease. The trial was thorough and the success complete.

TROTTING.

According to announcement a trotting match for $50, best two in three, one mile heat.

J. H. Pounds, of Barnesville, enters sorrel horse one eyed Joe.

J. G. Anderson, of Marietta, enters black horse Reb.

A. C. Heggie, of Marietta, enters bay horse, Red Buck.

Col. R. A. Alston, Dr. R. D. Moore, and Major S. R. Hoyle were selected as Judges.

J. G. Anderson won the first choice by ballot, Pounds the second, and Heggie the third.

THE FIRST HEAT

resulted as follows:

Reb	3:31½
One Eyed Joe	3:14
Red Buck	3:12½

THE SECOND HEAT.

Reb	3:31
One Eyed Joe	3:32
Red Buck	3:14

THE THIRD HEAT.

Reb	3:31
One Eyed Joe	3:08½
Red Buck	3:11½

The victory was awarded to One-eyed Joe.

Some one threw a hat and caused Reb to shy, which was claimed as a "foul."

The three horses were then put on the track and started. The sorrel horse, One eyed Joe won it in 3:18.

AN EXCITING TROT

now occurred between a brown mare, Pigeon, driven by Dr White, and Bob Lee, driven by O. H. Jones. Bob won it easily in 3:24.

AUDIENCE HALL.

The Fulton Paper Mills have on exhibition specimens of paper awarded premiums at the DeKalb County Fair.

Messrs. Simonton, Jones & Hatcher have on exhibition tobacco raised and manufactured in Georgia.

R. Peters has a hive of Italian bees at work on exhibition.

Mrs. S. M. Byrd, of Polk county, exhibits specimens of 131 pounds of honey produced by one swarm of bees.

Mrs Dr J M Johnson exhibits preserves, jellies, bread, and cakes.

The lower floor of Audience Hall has been assigned to

COBB COUNTY.

If Fulton, DeKalb, and Clayton counties had done as well as Cobb, the whole Fair Ground would be filled. Cobb county deserves great credit for the fine display she makes at the Fair. She has men of vim and energy too, whose hearts are in the work. Such men as General W Philips, Colonel C D Philips, T H Cheek, A S Way, J G Anderson, M G Whitlock J N Russell, etc., are the men to make anything a success. Cobb county has found in them good representatives. But we must pass on to.

FLORAL HALL

where we find an elegantly fitted up stand occupied by chemicals, perfumery, white lead and oils from the drug house of J. S. Pemberton & Co. Lucian Smith presides over it with his pleasing physiognomy and courteous manners. Up stairs in the Department of

MISCELLANEOUS.

The London store exhibits a fine case of millinery goods.

Mr. Lochrey exhibits specimens of silk and wool dyeing.

Lewis H Clarke exhibits a fine collection of hats and canes.

B Parsons exhibits a large collection of mineral and botanical specimens and curiosities from New Zealand and the Sandwich Islands.

Dr H Marshal exhibits a patent fire escape, cheap and convenient.

Mark W Johnson exhibits 175 garden and 84 field seeds, rotary harrows, clod crushers, Brinley turning plows, Cahoon seed sowers, garden seed drills, transplanters, Brinley universal plows, corn mills, corn and cob crushers, cotton seed hullers and crushers, churns, etc.

A Murphy exhibits pine and cypress shingles.

The contest for the music premium offered by the State Agricultural Society will come off on Friday at 12 o'clock in Floral Hall.

FINE HOGS.

T H Cheek, of Marietta, exhibits a Berkshire boar 18 months old, weighing 413 pounds, and a Berkshire sow 14 months old, weighing 373 pounds.

N F Legg of Cobb county, exhibits two Berkshire pigs imported from Kentucky—"Bob Alston" and "Cherokee Belle"—both beauties.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR JAMES.

To the Citizens of Atlanta:

In issuing my request for a suspension of business on Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock P. M., it was my intention to meet the request published by the Chamber of Commerce on the 11th instant; but finding that I was misinformed as to the day, I adopt this method of correcting the error, and will make the request apply to Thursday afternoon, instead of Wednesday.

I hope that every one will make the opportunity available and attend the Fair.

Respectfully,

JOHN H. JAMES, Mayor.

Local and Business Notices.

DR MOSES.—This scientific gentleman who has been domiciled for some time in our midst, leaves Atlanta for Nashville, Tenn., on the 1st of November with an unprecedented record behind him. During his stay he has made some of the most remarkable cures of stammering upon record, and his success is attested by the written testimonials of some of our leading citizens of our first families, who gladly give testimony of the wonderful relief and benefit they have derived from his skill. We cordially recommend him.

THE Association of General Special State and Adjusting Agents of the Southern States will meet at 11 A. M. to day in the Chamber of Commerce, corner Alabama and Broad streets. J. S. BOYD, Secretary.

THAT MATINEE.

She might have been a banker's daughter,
With millions of the yellow ore;
She might have been, as I've since thought her,
A shop girl in a dollar store;
An heiress or a smile provider,
Which of the two I cannot say—
I only know I sat beside her
That matinee.

Brown-haired, white throated, crimson-kidded,
Slim waist close clasped in violet silk;
Blue eyes, long lashed and lily-lidded,
And teeth like ivory dipped in milk;
Two lips red-ripe, dew-wet, which thrilled me
Responsive to their varying play—
She never knew how dead she killed me
That matinee.

And when between the acts' quick meeting
The orchestra breathed music's boon,
Her little foot in rythmic beating
Kept dainty time to every tune.
Ah! sweet Unknown! one thought will rankle,
For after all man is but clay—
I tried, but failed to see your ankle
That matinee.

At last my chance came—one to die on;
Her handkerchief dropped from her palm;
I fell upon it like a lion,
And she returned it—like a lamb.
Our fingers met—I trembled greatly;
She thanked me in a modest way;
Then wiped her little mouth sedately,
That matinee.

The curtain fell, and unattended
I watched her as she tripped along,
Until at last her figure blended
Far distant with the hurrying throng.
All's done, but one regret still lingers—
We always know too late the way;
I think I should have pressed her fingers
That matinee

JAMES ANTHONY FROUDE.

A Sketch of the Famous English Historian Now Lecturing in New York.

From the New York Tribune.]

We have already announced the arrival of the historian, James Anthony Froude, in this city, on a lecturing tour. Five lectures are to be delivered in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, on "The Relations Between England and Ireland." The lectures will be given in the following order: Oct. 16, "The Norman Conquest of Ireland;" Oct. 18, "Ireland Under the Tudors and Stuarts;" Oct. 21, "The Penal Laws and Their Consequences;" Oct. 23, "Grattan and the Volunteers;" Oct. 25, "The Rebellion of 1798, the Union, and the Ireland of To-day."

The celebrated historian is a tall, well-built man, with an exceedingly good-natured, pleasant face, a mouth that seems ever to smile, fine brown eyes, large and bright and thoughtful; high forehead, and grayish whiskers, a la Dundreary. It is an English face, and unusually pleasant. When Froude becomes animated his eyes sparkle, his large mouth is drawn into a winning smile—the whole face fairly beams with good-nature. In his dress Mr. Froude displayed the utmost simplicity. He wore a suit of gray, very much like a Scotch plaid. In his manner the historian is unaffected and modest.

James Anthony Froude is the second son of a clergyman of the Anglican church, the venerable R. H. Froude, Archdeacon of Totness, Devonshire, England, a stanch adherent of the established religion, and a man who has given to the world two sons destined to play a prominent part among the most remarkable men of the age in which he lived. Mr. Froude's elder brother, Richard Hurrell Froude, was the author of The Remains, a work of some power, which attracted considerable attention when it was first published.

The subject of the present notice is the younger son, and was born on the 23d of April, 1818, and from an early age was destined for the Church. He received his primary education at his native place, amid those scenes of rural beauty which abound in one of the most picturesque counties in England. He was subsequently sent to Westminster—one of those celebrated schools which, with Eton, Harrow and Winchester, have, for centuries, stood foremost among the educational institutions of the country, and which molded the genius of most of those master minds of which Englishmen feel so justly proud.

From Westminster he was sent to Oriel College, Oxford, and here, in 1842, he took a high degree, being placed in the second class in classics. In 1850, two years afterwards, he was elected to a fellowship at Exeter, having previously obtained the Chancellor's prize for an English essay. At this period of his career his thoughts took a decided turn from the path marked out for him by his father, and he abandoned the idea of entering the Church. In 1847 he gave the public his first work, entitled The Shadows of the Clouds, a volume of lightsome tales, full of humor, originality, humor, sarcasm and moral. But the publication of his great work, The Nemesis of Faith, may be said to have laid the foundation of all his fame. The wildest excitement was manifested upon the appearance of this volume from his pen, in which heresies of the deepest dye and skepticism of the most dangerous character were declared to be set forth, insomuch that The Nemesis was publicly burned at Oxford, after anathemas had been publicly and privately hurled against its author.

Mr. Froude then left Oxford, and resolved to devote himself solely to literary pursuits. At this juncture his attention was directed to history, and Frazer's Magazine, of which he has since become editor, as well as the Westminster Review of that time, contain several essays from his pen. A suggestive paper 'On the Book of Job" indicates the earlier turn of his mind; but others upon John Knox, Cardinal Woolsey, Mary Stuart and Mary Tudor point more clearly to the direction it was now taking. His history of England, despite of adverse criticisms, must ever rank with the highest historical productions in our language. With politics Mr. Froude has not concerned himself, but since the completion of his great work he has studied closely the condition of affairs in Ireland, and has thus mastered the subject of his lectures.

Reading Notices.

OUR BODILY INFIRMITIES.—Physical infirmities are the lot of all. Millions are always sick. No man, woman or child is uniformly in perfect health. Much, however, of the sickness and suffering which render life a burden to so many of our fellow beings is due to carelessness and neglect. A mighty antidote to the leading causes of disease has been provided. It is as harmless as it is efficient. No poisonous drug enters into its composition. It is an undefiled stimulant, tonic and aperient, of which every ingredient is vegetable. This unexceptionable preventive and restorative medicine is not "a new thing under the sun." Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will soon have been before the world a quarter of a century, and it is not too much to aver that thousands, aye, tens of thousands, are now using it who would have been in their graves years ago had they not been strengthened and sustained by this wholesome stimulant. The rapidity with which minor ailments often become, when neglected, obstinate diseases, is well known. This tonic is famous for the immediate check which it gives to these breeders of deadly disorders. The sensation of languor, the sick headache, the nervousness, the indisposition to exertion, the nausea, the confusion of brain, the physical debility, which are intended to premonish us of the approach of serious danger, are invariably removed by a few doses of the Bitters. The fame of the preparation as a genuine specific for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, malarious fevers, rheumatism and chronic debility, is as wide as the world; and in these days of infamous charlatanism, when fierce cathartics, that rob the invalid of the last remnants of his strength are advertised as invigorants (!), it is indeed a blessing to mankind that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are everywhere procurable, and everywhere popular. oct15-deod1w&w1t.

THE world does not contain a medicinal preparation which has obtained a more widespread and deserved popularity than the Mexican Mustang Liniment. Since its introduction to public notice more than twenty years ago, it has been constantly used for every kind of disease or injury to man or beast which can be affected by a local application, and so far as its proprietors are aware, it has not failed in a single instance. After so long and successful a term of probation, who will have the hardihood to deny its pre eminent claims to popular esteem.
oct15 deod1w&w1t.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of nasal passages, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick and tenacious mucus, purulent, muco-purulent, bloody, putrid, offensive, etc. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs, from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, tickling cough, idiocy and insanity.

All the above symptoms are common to the disease in some of its stages or complications, yet thousands of cases annually terminate in consumption, and end in the grave without ever manifesting one-third of the above symptoms.

No disease is more common or less understood by physicians. The Proprietor of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. oct15-deod1w&w1t.

DR. TUTT'S Liver Pills act as kindly on the most delicate female as upon the most vigorous system. Try them once.
oct15-d1w&w1t.

FRAGRANT SOZODONT hardens and invigorates the gums, purifies and perfumes the breath, cleanses, beautifies and preserves the teeth from youth to old age Sold by all Druggists. oct15 deod1w&w1t.

BLESSINGS brighten as they take their flight. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having; it is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but too often not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all arising from impure or feeble blood, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance. sep13—d&w4w

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET,

Be Deceived, but for coughs, colds sore throat, hoarseness and bronchial difficulties, use only

WELLS' CARBOLIC TABLETS.

Worthless imitations are on the market, but the only scientific preparation of Carbolic Acid for Lung diseases is when chemically combined with other well known remedies, as these TABLETS, and all parties are cautioned against using any other.

In all cases of irritation of the mucous membrane these TABLETS should be freely used, their cleansing and healing properties are astonishing.

Be warned, never neglect a cold, it is easily cured in its incipient state, when it becomes chronic the cure is exceedingly difficult, use Wells' Carbolic Tablets as a specific.

JURUBEBA

BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a most powerful tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your Liver and Spleen! Unless relieved at once the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, etc.

Take JURUBEBA to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach! Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

Have you a weakness of the Intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? You must procure instant relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.

THAT MATINEE.

She might have been a banker's daughter,
With millions of the yellow ore;
She might have been, as I've since thought her,
A shop girl in a dollar store;
An heiress or a smile provider,
Which of the two I cannot say—
I only know I sat beside her
That matinee.

Brown-haired, white throated, crimson-kidded,
Slim waist close clasped in violet silk;
Blue eyes, long lashed and lilly-lidded,
And teeth like ivory dipped in milk.
Two lips red-ripe, dew-wet, which thrilled me
Responsive to their varying play—
Oh never knew how fond she all of me
That matinee.

And when between the acts' quick meeting
The orchestra breathed music's boon,
Her little foot in rythmic beating
Kept dainty time to every tune.
Ah! sweet Unknown! one thought will rankle,
For after all man is but clay—
I tried, but failed to see your ankle
That matinee.

At last my chance came—one to die on;
Her handkerchief dropped from her palm;
I fell upon it like a lion,
And she returned it—like a lamb.
Our fingers met—I trembled greatly;
She thanked me in a modest way;
Then wiped her little mouth sedately,
That matinee.

The curtain fell, and unattended
I watched her as she tripped along,
Until at last her figure blended
Far distant with the hurrying throng.
Alas, done, but one regret still lingers—
We always know too late the way;
I think I should have pressed her fingers
That matinee

JAMES ANTHONY FROUDE.

A Sketch of the Famous English Historian Now Lecturing in New York.

[From the New York Tribune.]

We have already announced the arrival of the historian, James Anthony Froude, in this city, on a lecturing tour. Five lectures are to be delivered in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, on "The Relations Between England and Ireland." The lectures will be given in the following order: Oct. 16, "The Norman Conquest of Ireland;" Oct. 18, "Ireland Under the Tudors and Stuarts;" Oct. 21, "The Penal Laws and Their Consequences;" Oct. 23, "Grattan and the Volunteers;" Oct. 25, "The Rebellion of 1798, the Union, and the Ireland of To-day."

The celebrated historian is a tall, well-built man, with an exceedingly good-natured, pleasant face, a mouth that seems ever to smile, fine brown eyes, large and bright and thoughtful; high forehead, and grayish whiskers, a la Dundreary. It is an English face, and unusually pleasant. When Froude becomes animated his eyes sparkle, his large mouth is drawn into a winning smile—the whole face fairly beams with good-nature. In his dress Mr. Froude displayed the utmost simplicity. He wore a suit of gray, very much like a Scotch plaid. In his manner the historian is unaffected and modest.

James Anthony Froude is the second son of a clergyman of the Anglican church, the venerable R. H. Froude, Archdeacon of Totness, Devonshire, England, a stanch adherent of the established religion, and a man who has given to the world two sons destined to play a prominent part among the most remarkable men of the age in which he lived. Mr. Froude's elder brother, Richard Hurrell Froude, was the author of The Remains, a work of some power, which attracted considerable attention when it was first published.

The subject of the present notice is the younger son, and was born on the 23d of April, 1818, and from an early age was destined for the Church. He received his primary education at his native place, amid those scenes of rural beauty which abound in one of the most picturesque counties in England. He was subsequently sent to Westminster—one of those celebrated schools which, with Eton, Harrow and Winchester, have, for centuries, stood foremost among the educational institutions of the country, and which molded the genius of most of those master minds of which Englishmen feel so justly proud.

From Westminster he was sent to Oriel College, Oxford, and here, in 1842, he took a high degree, being placed in the second class in classics. In 1850, two years afterwards, he was elected to a fellowship at Exeter, having previously obtained the Chancellor's prize for an English essay. At this period of his career his thoughts took a decided turn from the path marked out for him by his father, and he abandoned the idea of entering the Church. In 1847 he gave the public his first work, entitled The Shadows of the Clouds, a volume of lightsome tales, full of humor, originality, humor, sarcasm and moral. But the publication of his great work, The Nemesis of Faith, may be said to have laid the foundation of all his fame. The wildest excitement was manifested upon the appearance of this volume from his pen, in which heresies of the deepest dye and skepticism of the most dangerous character were declared to be set forth, insomuch that The Nemesis was publicly burned at Oxford, after anathemas had been publicly and privately hurled against its author.

Mr. Froude then left Oxford, and resolved to devote himself solely to literary pursuits. At this juncture his attention was directed to history, and Frazer's Magazine, of which he has since become editor, as well as the Westminster Review of that time, contain several essays from his pen. A suggestive paper 'On the Book of Job' indicates the earlier turn of his mind; but others upon John Knox, Cardinal Woolsey, Mary Stuart and Mary Tudor point more clearly to the direction it was now taking. His history of England, despite of adverse criticisms, must ever rank with the highest historical productions in our language. With politics Mr. Froude has not concerned himself, but since the completion of his great work he has studied closely the condition of affairs in Ireland, and has thus mastered the subject of his lectures.

Reading Notices.

OUR BODILY INFIRMITIES.—Physical infirmities are the lot of all. Millions are always sick. No man, woman or child is uniformly in perfect health. Much, however, of the sickness and suffering which render life a burden to so many of our fellow beings is due to carelessness and neglect. A mighty antidote to the leading causes of disease has been provided. It is as harmless as it is efficient. No poisonous drug enters into its composition. It is an undefiled stimulant, tonic and aperient, of which every ingredient is vegetable. This unexceptionable preventive and restorative medicine is not "a new thing under the sun." Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will soon have been before the world a quarter of a century, and it is not too much to aver that thousands, aye, tens of thousands, are now using it who would have been in their graves years ago had they not been strengthened and sustained by this wholesome stimulant. The rapidity with which minor ailments often become, when neglected, obstinate diseases, is well known. This tonic is famous for the immediate check which it gives to these breeders of deadly disorders. The sensation of languor, the sick headache, the nervousness, the indisposition to exertion, the nausea, the confusion of brain, the physical debility, which are intended to premonish us of the approach of serious danger, are invariably removed by a few doses of the Bitters. The fame of the preparation as a genuine specific for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, malarious fevers, rheumatism and chronic debility, is as wide as the world; and in these days of infamous charlatanism, when fierce cathartics, that rob the invalid of the last remnants of his strength are advertised as invigorants (!), it is indeed a blessing to mankind that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are everywhere procurable, and everywhere popular. oct15-deod1w&w1t.

THE world does not contain a medicinal preparation which has obtained a more wide-spread and deserved popularity than the Mexican Mustang Liniment. Since its introduction to public notice more than twenty years ago, it has been constantly used for every kind of disease or injury to man or beast which can be affected by a local application, and so far as its proprietors are aware, it has not failed in a single instance. After so long and successful a term of probation, who will have the hardihood to deny its pre eminent claims to popular esteem. oct15 deod1w&w1t.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of nasal passages, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick and tenacious mucus, purulent, muco-purulent, bloody, putrid, offensive, etc. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs, from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, tickling cough, idiocy and insanity.

All the above symptoms are common to the disease in some of its stages or complications, yet thousands of cases annually terminate in consumption, and end in the grave without ever manifesting one-third of the above symptoms.

No disease is more common or less understood by physicians. The Proprietor of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. oct15-deod1w&w1t.

DR. TUTT's Liver Pills act as kindly on the most delicate female as upon the most vigorous system. Try them once. oct15-d1w&w1t.

FRAGRANT SOZODONT hardens and invigorates the gums, purifies and perfumes the breath, cleanses, beautifies and preserves the teeth from youth to old age Sold by all Druggists. oct15 deod1w&w1t.

BLESSINGS brighten as they take their flight. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having; it is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but too often not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all arising from impure or feeble blood, DR. WALKER's CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance. sep13—d&w4w

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. DON'T

WELLS' CARBOLIC TABLETS.

Worthless imitations are on the market, but the only scientific preparation of Carbolic Acid for Lung diseases is when chemically combined with other well known remedies, as these TABLETS, and all parties are cautioned against using any other.

In all cases of irritation of the mucous membrane these TABLETS should be freely used, their cleansing and healing properties are astonishing.

Be warned, never neglect a cold, it is easily cured in its incipient state, when it becomes chronic the cure is exceedingly difficult, use Wells' Carbolic Tablets as a specific.

SHALER'S PATENT

PARADE TORCH

for the CAMPAIGN of 1872, is a striking novelty in the torch line. The burning fluid being contained in the packing, prevents all danger of dripping and soiling the clothing, and is perfectly safe in handling. By blowing through a tube in the handle is thrown three feet into the air, producing a beautiful and startling effect, and illuminating a wide area. This torch is cheaper and handier than any other, and costs to burn only two or three cents per night.

A COLUMN OF FLAME

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a most powerful Tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your Liver and Spleen! Unless relieved at once the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, etc.

Take JURUBEBA to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach! Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

Have you a weakness of the Intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? You must procure instant relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.
